This program is available exclusively to our CPM members. It will be helpful for our members who are parents, or want to become more familiar with these parenting skills to help our clients, and to anyone who wants to strengthen their Powerful Non-Defensive Communication skills in general.

It will use the “flip learning” method. Individual preparation work of approximately 1.5 hours before each session will involve listening to downloads from Sharon Strand Ellison’s and Ami Atkinson’s “Taking the Power Struggle Out of Parenting” which will be provided as part of the program.

The one hour noon Zoom sessions will involve a review of the concepts together with comprehensive power point materials, and an interactive discussion with the participants. Limit setting, asking curious questions and making statements will be covered.

Lauren Adams and Melinda Gehris are talented lawyer mediators working in New Hampshire. Greg Evans and Pat Lane are collaborative lawyers here in Winnipeg. All facilitators have extensive experience in teaching the concepts of Powerful Non-Defensive Communication, and the format for this workshop has been very well received.
